FOUND FREEDOM IN MAN'S ATTIRE,

Miss Hall's Only Reason for Dressing and Acting Like a Real Man.

STORY OF HER COMPANION.

Narrative of a Woman's Eccentric Life and Her Pathetic Death -Admirer of Rosa Bonheur.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL New York, Oct. 1.—Additional information was obtained to-day in the case of Miss Caroline Winslow Hall, who died on the steamship Citta di Torino yesterday, just after the vessel arrived at her pier, and who for several years masqueraded as a

Miss Rosalia Baldelli, who passed as Miss Hall's "wife" for so many years, and who, on the discovery of Miss Hail's sex after her death, gave her own name as Miss Giuseppina Borlant, to-day told the story of her acquaintance with the woman who was afterward to pass as her husband, and was afterward to pass as her husband, and who Miss Baldelli for ten years publicly acknowledged as her husband.

Seated in the saloon of the ship, she said, with occasional outbursts of tears: "I met Caroline Winslow Hall ten years ago, while I was living in Milan, Italy, where I was engaged as a teacher in a Government school. One day in autumn I was walking in the outskirts of Milan when I met a rather good-looking young woman. She made some commonplace remark, and four that some commonplace remark, and from that we soon became engaged in general conver-sation. She told me that she was an American, that her name was Caroline Winslow Hall, and that her home was in Boston. She explained that her home was in Boston. She explained that she was attending an art school, having come to Italy for the purpose of studying art.

Love at First Sight.

"We were mutually attracted almost at once. She was a very engaging, fascinating woman of much intellect, and I felt drawn toward her. She told me she had become greatly interested in me, although we had known each other such a short time, and we met frequently after that, while taking walks about the city. One day she told me she had no sisters or brothers, and that she desired me to take the place of a sis-ter. From that time we were together al-most constantly. She was then attending the Breire Art School in Milan. The students were nearly all young men, and Miss Hall, therefore, adopted a man's coat and trousers as a working costume, as did the few other female students. She de-clared that she felt more at ease in man's ciolhing, which gave her an opportunity for greater freedom than would be possible she wore woman's clothing constantly.

Decided to Pose as a Man.
"After she left the art school we traveled through Italy and elsewhere together. It was not until 1897 that she decided to aswas not until 183 that she decided to as-sume the guise of a man, because she be-lieved we would be subjected to less annoy-ance if she wore men's clothing. She as-sumed the name of Charles Winslow Hall and said I should take the name of Giu-seppani Hall, her wife. We traveled for three years more and at no time was her sex questioned.

ex questioned.
"Her health began to fall about two years ago, and during the last year, in con-sequence, we traveled little, passing the greater part of our time in Italy, where she followed her profession of artist. She consulted doctors, who told her she had tuberculosis. During the summer she spoke frequently of returning to the United States, balleving that she could not live and expressing the desire to die at her home in Roston.

Wanted to Die at Home. "We took passage on the Citta di Torino of the Veloce Steamship Line, hoping that she would live until she could reach the home of her father. She did not associate much with the other passengers during the voyage, as her condition was so serious that It was necessary to avoid all excitement and exertion. She realized fully that she could not live very long, and so did L. It was for the purpose of keeping up her strength until she reached her home that she took stimulants."

A singular coincidence is the fact that A singular coincidence is the fact that the name Hall was borne by another woman who, for forty years, masqueraded as a man, was an active member of Tammany Hail in this city, and whose sex was not discovered until after death.

RECIPROCITY CONVENTION.

American Manufacturers Will Do , mand Tariff Revision.

mand Tariff Revision.

Philadelphia. Oct. 1.—The first meeting of the committee of the National Association of Manufacturers, which has charge of the arrangements for the National Conference on Reciprocity, will be held in this city on October 18. President Theodore C. Search of this city to-day announced the personnel of the Committee on Arrangements as far as it is completed.

In speaking about the coming conference, President Search to-day said:

"The unanimous interest in the movement shown by the manufacturers is significant of the widespread desire among the manufacturers of the United States for the application of the principles of commercial reciprocity in some eminently practical form. It has been made clear to every member of the committee, and we wish to make it clear to the public, that this is to be strictly a reciprocity convention.

"It is to be a carefully organized body of procity convention.

"It is to be a carefully organized body of properly accredited delegates, limited in number and representative of manufacturing interests.

ing interests.

"Its purpose is to discuss the advantage and disadvantage of reciprocity as a factor in our trade relations with other nations.

"Its efforts will be directed toward the formation of practical plans for the further application of reciprocity, either under existing laws or legislation yet to be enacted. "No consideration will be given to any suggestions looking to general revision of the present tariff law of the United States, nor to the abandonment or modification of the essential principles embodied in this law."

GREAT ELECTRICAL DISPLAY.

Variegated Flames Shoot From a Conduit Manhole.

Conduit Manhole.

Fersons in the neighborhood of Ninth street and Lucas avenue were last night treated to an electrical display which, while impromptu, was as brilliant as any ever given on a Fourth of July night.

During the rainstorm water poured into an open manhole, and, coming in contact with electric-light wires. The wires caught fire afterwards and flames shot up five feet above the surface of the ground.

The flames appeared in many colors and presented a scene as picturesque as it was unusual. Private Watchman Ryan notified the Electric Lighting Department, and several electrical companies, but inspectors and representatives were unable to put an end to the display until the wires had burned out.

Mr. Thomas Safford of 5708 Von Versen Avenue (Twenty-eighth Ward) says:

"I have often noticed testimonials published in St. Louis about medicines, but all of them from foreign parts, and it has often struck me as peculiar why they did not publish some nearer home. Here is a case in St. Louis, and you are at liberty to send any resident to Tom Stafford for his opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills and what that remedy did for him. My back ached so that I could not rise from a chair, and was almost unable every now and then to get out of bed, Worse than that, I was often unable to lie in bed and was compelled to rise and for weeks at a time I could not sleep. For two or three days at a time I could not leave the house. When I stooped or lifted, a kink caught me in the small of my back which rendered me helpless for the time heing. I tried medicine of every description until I lost faith in it. When I told my people I was soing to Wolff-Wilson's, corner Sixth and Washington avenue, for Doan's Kidney Pills, they laughed at me, and asked me if I was to try some other fake. Now when a preparation brings as genuine relief to a sufference Doan's Kidney Pills brought to me I am only too pleased to make that fact known so that others may profit by my experience. MURDER LEADS TO REVISION OF CREED.

Amish Church Laws Said to Have Been Changed Radically as Outcome of Recent Tragedy.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 1.-When Sam Moser of Tazewell County fired the shots a year ago which killed his wife and three children he shook the Hennonite or Amish Church to its very foundations. Every State where the sect is numerically strong has shown the effects of this quadruple murder, and the reveiations concerning the faith that followed when the trial was held. faith that followed when the trial was held. It finally became necessary to call a conference of the elders and other leading members, and this gathering has been held for the past week at the church near Gridley, in this county. Adjournment has just occurred after a long-drawn-out session. All of the proceedings were in the German tongue and great secrecy prevailed. It is understood, however, that the religious laws were radically changed and revised in many particulars.

When Moser was arraigned it was shown that he had been expelled from the church for fondling his children, such affection being a sort of idolatry in the eyes of the sect, and not to be tolerated.

sect, and not to be tolerated.

Ostracised by Friends.

Moser, it will be remembered, was not allowed to associate with friends or relatives for his heresy, and it was claimed that this ostracism affected his mind and drove him to commit the awful crime. The severe arraignment that this doctrine received in the press is thought to have been the principal reason for this conference.

Delegates to the number of a thousand or more were present frim Illinois, lowa. Nebraska, Kansas, and as far West as Utah. It is alleged that ever since the Moser trial the young Amish have shown an inclination to break away from the church, owing to its harsh and rigid rules, and for this reason the conference the church, owing to its harsh and rigid rules, and for this reason the conference was called by the elders, that more privi-leges might be granted and some of the ob-jectionable doctrine set aside. It was argued that more liberality was needed if the sect was to be preserved and the young people retained in membership.

Borden's Generosity Results in Trouble at Fall River.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
Fall River, Mass., Oct. 1.—In refusing today the demand for an increase of 5 per cent in wages of operatives, made by the textile council, the Manufacturers' Association has, it is said, invited a serious labor war, since the council had already declared the intention of organized labor to engage in a general strike next Monday unless the increase is granted. The demand for the increase is granted. The demand for the increase came as the result of the announcement by M. C. D. Borden that the wages of his 3,000 operatives would be increased 5 per cent, beginning to-day. There are about 27,000 operatives employed in the mills in the Manufacturers' Association, of which Mr. Borden is independent. Mass meetings of all the labor unions will be held Friday night to discuss the situation.

He draws comparisons between Anarchists of the past and of the present and advances deductions that you will find interesting, though you may dispute them.

Fashion Is Queen of the Time.

Everybody worships her-just now, anyhow. Everybody admires her. Everybody wants to be just like her. This year she is particularly beautiful. Her robes are of the grandest; her crowns are dreams of loveliness. She is worth studying.

The NEXT SUNDAY REPUBLIC WILL Paris and New York-described and pictured, some of them in colors, by artists and correspondents.

A Certain Town in Missouri

Wants to be particularly prominent at the World's Fair in 1903. It thinks it has reason for desiring to occupy that posi-tion, for it has a history that brings it into the class of Louisiana Purchase towns. It is a thrilling history-one through which scalp-seeking Indians stalk boldly.

The story of this town's most laudable ambition will be pleasingly told and attractively illustrated in THE NEXT SUNDAY REPUBLIC.

Millions vs. Liberty: A Wager.

Queer sort of wager, wasn't it? And yet, just such a wager was made—AND LIVED UP TO! It did not happen here—but in a country where Romance and Tragedy stalk grimly over the snow. It is a remarkable story-one, perhaps, that never had a counterpart.

Read it in NEXT SUNDAY'S REPUB-LIC. It is not only of absorbing inter-est, but, psychologically, it is worth serious consideration.

Society and Social Events.

Nowhere is the society news of St. Louis and the vast country tributary to it so fully presented as in The Sunday Repub-lic. A staff of expert writers tell all the society news of the city; and a large corps of capable and diligent correspondents tell of it elsewhere.

The next Sunday Republic will present this interesting feature of news as attractively as usual—AND WITH APPROPRIATE PICTURES.

Sporting News From Everywhere.

The Sunday Republic gives it-fresh, sull, interesting. The Republic's sporting news department is organized to cover every field of honest sport. Its Football news, its Baseball news, its Turf news, its Coursing news, its Bowling news, its Pugilistic news-its news of every department of sport-is UNRI-

THE NEXT SUNDAY REPUBLIC will be fully up to the mark in the presen-tation of sporting news. And it will be copiously illustrated.

"The World's a Stage"

And the world is mightily interested in the Stage and its People. The Sunday Republic's dramatic news and reviews have every mark of excellence. It is reliable, it is up-to-date, it is interesting.

And in the matter of pictures—of real pictures of real stage people— The Sunday Republic is far and away in the lead.

The Big World Never Sleeps.

It is continually doing things that are important. It is always "stirring," and at a rapid pace. It is the business of the modern newspaper TO KEEP UP WITH THE WORLD. That is what The Republic does, 366 days—sometimes 366 days—in every

"Ayer's Pills have done me and my family great good. They are like a true friend in trouble. There is nothing equal to them for sick headache and billousness."— Mrs. JULIA BROWN, St. Louis, Mo.

It's Your Liver!" You cannot possibly enjoy good health unless you have at least one free movement of the bowels each day. When this is not the case the poisonous products are absorbed into the system, causing headache, biliousness, nausea, vomiting, dyspepsia, indigestion.

Ayer's Pills are liver pills, a gentle, vegetable laxative. One pill at bedtime will produce a natural movement the day following.
